3. Admission to the programme

General information about the admissions procedures for programmes in TU Dublin, fees and registration can be found on the University webpages in the Student Services & Support section. These pages also include information on opportunities for further study on part-time and full-time programmes at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

TU Dublin's webpages also include information for International Students, about Open Days and a CAO Hub for programmes where admission is through the CAO. Some programmes may also be available via Springboard.
